That seven-game losing streak came to an end as the Irish handed the Hoyas a 12-9 loss to move on to the NCAA finals, held at Boston University. In the semifinals, the Irish faced Dartmouth and saw the most successful season in the program's history come to an end as the Big Green downed Notre Dame, 14-8, to move on to the finals against Northwestern.

For the first time in the program's history, the Irish advanced to the NCAAs in three consecutive seasons from 2008-10.

Following a year's absence, the Irish returned to the NCAAs in 2012, losing to eventual national champion Northwestern, 12-7 in Evanston.

In 2014, Notre Dame was selected as a top-eight seed nationally and was awarded the privilege of hosting its first and second round games. It marked the fourth time that the Irish had played host to the NCAAs and the first since 2006.

In 2016, Notre Dame returned to the quarterfinals for the first time since 2009 by topping #10 Northwestern, 15-3, at Arlotta Stadium after earning a first-round bye as the sixth national seed.

In 2021, the Irish returned to the quarterfinals again after a pair of home wins over Robert Morris (16-0) and Virginia (13-8), with that win over Robert Morris being the first shutout in the history of the Division I Women's Lacrosse Tournament. 2021 also marked the first time the Irish have won home NCAA Tournament contests in the same year.

Entering 2022, the Irish have earned an NCAA Tournament berth in eight of nine seasons under head coach Christine Halpeny in which the NCAA Tournament was played. There was no NCAA Tournament in 2020 due to COVID-19.

Jen White led Notre Dame to the NCAA quarterfinals in 2002. She recorded 11 saves in a win over Ohio State and 11 more in the 11-5 loss to Princeton in the quarterfinals.

Making their first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance, the Notre Dame Fighting Irish opened at home against 12th-ranked Ohio State and had to battle back from a three-goal deficit in the second half to pull out an 11-7 win over the Buckeyes.

Sophomore Meredith Simon led the way with three goals and two assists while Alissa Moser, Natalie Loftus and Kassen Delano each scored two goals in the victory. Lauren Cochran led Ohio State with three goals while Regina Oliver had a pair for the Buckeyes.

Ohio State led 5-3 at halftime and had a 7-4 lead with 20 minutes left when the Irish offense went into gear, scoring the final seven goals of the game for the 11-7 win.

Notre Dame fired 30 shots on goal to Ohio State's 25. Irish goalkeeper Jen White made 11 saves in the victory while Erin Forquer surrendered 11 goals while making 14 saves.

The win moved the Irish into the quarterfinals against top-ranked Princeton.

2002 NCAA Tournament – Quarterfinals

#1 Princeton 11, #7 Notre Dame 5
 May 12, 2002 • Princeton, N.J.

The Notre Dame women's lacrosse team saw its dream season come to an end in Princeton, N.J., as the Irish fell to top-ranked Princeton, 11-5, in an NCAA Quarterfinal contest.

The loss ended Notre Dame's season with a 13-5 record, the best in the program's six-year history. Princeton advanced to the NCAA semifinals with the victory.

Princeton's offense was led by Whitney Miller, Lauren Simone and Charlotte Kenworthy as each player recorded three goals and two assists for five points in the game. The Irish got two goals each from Danielle Shearer and Meredith Simon while Natalie Loftus had a single goal.

The Tigers jumped out to a 5-1 lead in the first half as Notre Dame goalkeeper Jen White made several big saves to keep the game close.

Second-half goals by Loftus and Simon would cut the lead to 6-3, but that would be as close as the Irish would get in the 11-5 loss.

Notre Dame Women's Lacrosse in the NCAA Championship

The Notre Dame Fighting Irish women's lacrosse team has advanced to the NCAA tournament 14 times since the 2002 campaign, highlighted by the 2006 appearance in the national semifinals in Boston, Massachusetts.

In 25 seasons as a Division I program, Notre Dame women's lacrosse has become a major player on the national lacrosse scene.

The Irish first appeared in the tournament following the 2002 season and hosted their first-ever tournament game versus Ohio State, taking an 11-7 win over the Buckeyes.

In 2006, the Irish returned to the NCAA Tournament, recording the biggest turnaround in NCAA history, going from 3-12 in '05 to 15-4. That helped the Irish get their second-ever home NCAA game as they played host to Cornell. Notre Dame responded with a 16-8 win to advance to the quarterfinals for the second time in program history. That game would also be at Moose Krause Stadium against fourth-ranked Georgetown, a team the Irish had never beaten.

The Tigers outshot the Irish, 36-20, in the game. White made 11 saves for Notre Dame while Sarah Kolodner had five saves in the victory.

2004 NCAA Tournament – First Round

#8 Northwestern 10, #9 Notre Dame 8 May 13, 2004 • Evanston, Ill.

Notre Dame made its second appearance in the NCAA Tournament in 2004 and the Irish faced one of their biggest rivals, the Northwestern Wildcats.

The two teams met at Lakeside Field where the Wildcats rallied from a 6-4 halftime deficit to pull out a 10-8 win to advance to the NCAA Quarterfinals.

The Irish were led offensively by senior midfielder

Kassen Delano had a career-best four-point game (3g, 1a) as Notre Dame lost a tough, 10-8 decision at Northwestern in the 2004 NCAA Tournament.

Jill Byers led the Irish to the quarterfinals of the 2009 NCAA Championship during her final season. In two games she scored nine goals and had two assists against No. 12 Vanderbilt and No. 3 North Carolina.

Kassen Delano who equaled a career-best four-point game on three goals and an assist. Crysti Foote scored two goals and added an assist in the loss.

Northwestern's Kristen Kjellman matched Delano with three goals and an assist while Laura Glassanos had three goals of her own to pace the Wildcats.

The Irish led 3-1 on goals by Kristen Gaudreau, Lauren Fischer and Foote only to see the Wildcats score three goals in a 1:04 span to make it 4-3. Delano scored the final three goals of the half to send the game to the intermission with Notre Dame leading 6-4.

Two goals by Northwestern's Aly Josephs early in the second half tied the game at 6-6. Abby Owen scored her only goal of the game with just over 21 minutes left to put Notre Dame ahead for the final time at 7-6.

Kjellman then sandwiched a pair of goals around Albrecht's second goal of the game to make it 9-7 with 8:15 left. Foote scored her second of the day with 6:25 left on the dock to narrow the Northwestern lead to 9-8. Glassanos closed out the scoring with 1:25 left for the 10-8 win.

The Irish out shot Northwestern by a 19-18 margin. Carol Dixon had seven saves while Ashley Gersuk finished with six in the game.

2006 NCAA Tournament – First Round

#7 Notre Dame 16, #10 Cornell 8 May 14, 2006 • Notre Dame, Ind.

After a year away, Notre Dame women's lacrosse returned to the NCAA Tournament, opening at Moose Krause Stadium, versus Cornell.

The Irish scored early and often in dispatching the Big Red by a 16-8 score. Senior Crysti Foote and freshman Jillian Byers led Notre Dame with four goals and a pair of assists each, improving the Irish to 14-3 on the year. The win advanced Notre Dame to the quarterfinals versus No. 4 Georgetown.

Caitlin McKinney added three goals while Heather Ferguson and Kaki Orr scored twice and Brittany Fox scored a solo goal in the win.

Carol Dixon paced the Irish defense as she made 12 saves in the game.

Noelle Dowd led Cornell (12-4) with four goals on the afternoon. Allison McKeown, Allison Schindler, Mimi Baveye and Courtney Farrell scored single goals for the Big Red.

Cornell jumped out to an early 3-0 lead over the first 8:19 of the game. Following the third goal, head coach Tracy Coyne called a timeout to settle her team down. The strategy worked as Foote scored a little over a minute later to start the Irish on a 10-1 run that would give Notre Dame a six-goal lead early in the second half.

The lead would reach 11-5 early in the second half before Cornell got a pair of goals at 18:07 and 16:56 to cut the Irish lead to 11-7. Notre Dame then ran off the next five goals in a seven-minute span to make it 16-7. Dowd would close the scoring with 1:33 left for the final of 16-8.

Notre Dame out shot Cornell by a 29-26 margin. Maggie Fava made eight saves while giving up 15 goals. Mary Montague gave up one goal on the only shot she would face.

The win marked the 200th victory of Irish head coach Tracy Coyne's career.

2006 NCAA Tournament – Quarterfinals

#7 Notre Dame 12, #4 Georgetown 9
 May 20, 2006 • Notre Dame, Ind.

For six years, the Georgetown Hoyas stood in the way of the Notre Dame women's lacrosse team in its attempt to win a BIG EAST Conference title.

Three times, including the 2006 season, the Irish finished second to the Hoyas in the league with their lone conference loss coming at Georgetown. Now, only the Hoyas stood in the way of Notre Dame in its bid to advance to the NCAA Finals in Boston, Mass.

Things would be different this time around thanks to the trio of Crysti Foote, Jillian Byers and Caitlin McKinney who combined for nine goals and six assists to lead the Irish to their first win in eight tries against the Hoyas, a 12-9 NCAA quarterfinal victory, that sent the Irish on to the NCAA semifinals at Boston University.

 Mary Carpenter, Jane Stoekert and Heather Ferguson also scored for Notre Dame in the early victory.

Georgetown got three goals each from Coco Stanwick and Schuyler Sutton while Lucy Poole, Paige Andrews and Courtney Hubschman each scored once for the Hoyas, who fell to 14-4 for the season.

The Irish got off to a fast start, taking a 4-1 lead less than 14 minutes into the game as Byers scored Notre Dame's first three goals on the way to a five-point game (3g, 2a).

Georgetown roared back, scoring the next five goals to take a 6-4 lead and Foote's goal for the Irish with 1:32 left in the first half cut the Hoyas' lead to one at 6-5.

Notre Dame came out fast in the second half and tied the game when Ferguson converted on a free-position goal at 28:35 to make it 6-6.

Stanwick scored her second of the afternoon at 26:18 to restore the Georgetown lead at 7-6. The score would stay that way until 20:57 when McKinney scored her first goal of the half on a free-position shot to even the score at 7-7.

Stanwick gave Georgetown its final lead of the game (8-7) when she scored at 18:47. From there, the potent Notre Dame attack took over as the Irish scored four straight goals – one by McKinney, one by Carpenter and two by Foote – to make it 11-8. Sutton scored with 7:37 left to make it 11-9 and McKinney closed the scoring with her third goal with 4:08 left in the game.

For the game, the Irish out shot Georgetown 26-18 and allowed just seven shots in the second half. Carol Dixon made three saves for Notre Dame while Koch had eight saves for the Hoyas.

2006 NCAA Tournament – Semifinals

#7 Dartmouth 14, #6 Notre Dame 8
 May 26, 2006 • Boston, Mass.

Notre Dame saw its dream season come to an end in the NCAA semifinals at Boston University's Nickerson Field as the Irish were defeated by the Dartmouth Big Green, 14-8, in front of a crowd of 3,701. The loss ended Notre Dame's finest season ever at 15-4 while Dartmouth moved on to face Northwestern in the NCAA title game.

As usual, the Irish were paced by All-American and Tewaaraton Trophy finalist Crysti Foote who had three goals and two assists in her final game for the Irish. Caitlin McKinney added three goals of her own and Heather Ferguson scored twice on the evening.

Dartmouth was led by Whitney Douthett with four goals and two assists and Kristen Zimmer also had six points with three goals and three assists. Casey Hazel, Sarah Szefti and Kristen Barry each had two goals to round out the Big Green scoring.

Known for its stingy defense, Dartmouth took the play to the Irish early in the game, scoring the first four goals. Douthett scored twice with Szefti and Zimmer contributing a goal each in the first eight minutes.

McKinney and Foote answered for the Irish, cutting the lead to 4-2. A Dartmouth goal made it 5-2 but Foote scored again with less than seven minutes left in the half to make it 5-3. Kristen Barry's goal at 27:28 gave the Big Green a 6-3 lead at the half.

Dartmouth got off to a fast start in the second half, scoring the first three goals to make it 9-3.

McKinney and Ferguson scored 3:10 apart to make it 9-5 but again Dartmouth scored three straight to open a seven-goal lead. Foote scored her third of the game to make it 12-6 only to see Hazel and Leibovitz close the Big Green scoring with under six minutes left to run the lead to 14-6. McKinney (her third) and Ferguson (her second) each scored in the last minute of the game for the 14-8 final.

Dartmouth out shot Notre Dame, 25-19. Carol Dixon finished with six saves while Devon Wills had four stops for the Big Green.

a second-half Northwestern buzz-saw that saw the Wildcats snap a 5-5 halftime tie and outscore the Irish, 10-2, on the way to a 15-7 win in the first-round NCAA Tournament game at Lakeside Field.

Northwestern's Hannah Nielsen scored five of her six goals and teammate Hilary Bowen got five (2g, 3a) of her game-high eight points (5g, 3a) in the second half to pace the Wildcat attack.

Sophomore Gina Scioscia led Notre Dame with three goals in the contest while senior Heather Ferguson had two goals and an assist. Juniors Alicia Billings and Jane Stoeckert each scored once while junior Shannon Burke had the first two-assist game of her career.

The loss ended 10th-ranked Notre Dame's season with a 12-7 record. Northwestern, ranked first in the IWLC poll improved to 18-1 on the year. Ferguson and Bowen traded goals to start the game and it would remain 1-1 until the 19:29 mark when Ferguson converted a feed from Burke, whipping a shot over Morgan Lathrop's right shoulder for a 2-1 Irish lead.

Notre Dame's lead would go to 3-1 when Scioscia scored her first goal of the game at 10:35.

The teams traded goals when Nielsen got her first of six at 8:56 only to see Stoeckert score 29 seconds later for a 4-2 lead.

Northwestern knotted the score with goals from Bowen and Matthews to make it 4-4 with 3:42 left in the first half. Billings put the Irish ahead 5-4 at 3:19 but Bowen tied the game with nine seconds left in the half for a 5-5 score.

The Notre Dame women's lacrosse team saw its 2009 season come to an end at the hands of the North Carolina Tar Heels in the second round of the NCAA Tournament played at hot, muggy Fetzer Field on the UNC campus on a Saturday afternoon.

The Tar Heels used a balanced attack, strong goalkeeping and a stingy defense as they held the Irish to just 10 goals in a 16-10 loss.

Senior Jillian Byers, playing in her final game for Notre Dame, led the Irish with five goals and one assist, including all four Notre Dame goals in the second half. Kailene Abt scored twice while Kaitlin Keena added a goal and two assists. Junior Gina Scioscia and Jackie Doherty added a goal and an assist in the game. Sophomore Ansley Stewart assisted on a pair of goals.

North Carolina's balanced attack featured three players with three goals each as Corey Donohue, Jenn Russell and Megan Bosica led the Tar Heels offense. Kristen Carr and Chelsea Brooks each had two goals with Laura Zimmerman, Kristen Taylor and Katie Brooks adding a goal each. Taylor added three assists while Russell had one to lead Carolina with four-point games.

The Tar Heels out shot the Irish, 34-28, in the game. Junior goalkeeper Logan Ripley made 12 saves in the game while Erin Goodman had nine stops in the Irish goal.

The loss ended one of the best campaigns in the

#2 Northwestern 19, #14 Notre Dame 7 May 15, 2010 • Evanston, Ill.

The Notre Dame women's lacrosse team advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the third consecutive season, a first in the program's 14-year history. The Irish stay was short though as their season ended with a first round loss at Northwestern's Lakeside Field in Evanston, Ill.

The Wildcats snapped a 3-3 first-half tie by outscoring the Irish, 8-1, over the final 17 minutes of the first half to take an 11-4 lead at the break on the way to a 19-7 victory.

Northwestern got eight-point games from Katrina Dowd (5g, 3a) and Shannon Smith (4g, 4a) with Erin Fitzgerald (three goals), Danielle Spencer and Ali Cassera (two each) scoring multiple goals on the way to the win.

Notre Dame was led by Gina Scioscia, who closed out her Irish career, with a goal and three assists. Jenny Granger added a pair of goals with Megan Sullivan, Ansley Stewart, Maggie Tamasitis and Kailene Abt getting one goal each.

The Wildcats out shot the Irish, 39-21, in the game. Notre Dame goaltender Ellie Hilling made nine saves in her first NCAA Tournament game. Brianne Lomanto gave up six goals in 52:48 while making seven saves in the game. Darby St. Clair-Barrie played the final 7:12, giving up one goal while making one save.

#2 Northwestern 12, #8 Notre Dame 7 May 12, 2012 • Evanston, Ill.

The No. 8 Notre Dame women's lacrosse team saw its first season under head coach Christine Halpenny come to an end on Saturday afternoon at Northwestern's Lakeside Field, as the No. 2 Wildcats defeated the Irish, 12-7. The Irish end the season with a 13-5 record, a mark that is one of the best in school history.

In a game that was in doubt until the very end, the Wildcats used the draw (15-5) to control the possession for much of the game, as they outscored the Irish 7-4 in the second half to hold on for the win. Their last two goals came against an empty net as they Irish added an extra defender to try and get the ball back. The Wildcats piled up 25 shots compared to 15 for the Irish, and also scooped up 19 ground balls to Notre Dame's 14.

Leading the way for the Irish were junior Betsy Mastropieri and sophomore Kaitlyn Brosco, who each tallied a pair of goals. In her last game, Maggie Tamasitis scored a goal and dished out a pair of assists. Also scoring goals were Caitlin Gargan and Margaret Smith.

Northwestern was led by Erin Fitzgerald's hat trick, while Lacey Vigmostad and Taylor Thornton scored two goals each. Alyssa Leonard dominated the draw control for the Wildcats, as she faced off against the Irish and collected eight, often times out of the air. Thornton led the way with five ground balls. Goalie Brianne LoManto picked up her 18th win, as she allowed seven goals while stopping five shots.

Despite only collecting two draws in nine opportunities, the Irish trailed by only two goals at half-time, 5-3. Notre Dame was helped by a ferocious defense that forced Northwestern into 11 turnovers. When the Irish did have the ball they were hurt by nine turnovers, many after forcing a Northwestern turnover. However, the Irish were efficient around the goal, scoring their three goals on only seven shots, while the Wildcats took 13 shots to score their five goals. The 5-3 margin put the Irish squarely in the game after trailing 12-3 just three weeks ago against the Wildcats at the half.

In the second half the two squads traded goals until the Wildcats went on a 3-0 run from 17:52 to 11:39 to go up 10-5. The Irish cut the lead to 10-7 with 5:18 left after goals from Brosco and Mastropieri, but could get no closer.

The contest marked the final game in an Irish uniform for eight Notre Dame student-athletes. Seeing their final action were Tamasitis, Megan Sullivan, Kate Newall, Jordy Shoemaker, Flannery Nangle, Brittany Mallory, Kristin DeRespiris and Kelly Driscoll.

Tamasitis ends her career as the Irish leader in assists with 151. She is also fourth in points with 228. The Boyertown, Pa., product and senior teammate M. Sullivan end their careers tied for second for most games played with 76.

#2 Stanford 8, #9 Notre Dame 7 May 10, 2013 • Evanston, Ill.

A Hannah Farr free position goal with four seconds remaining in regulation completed a Stanford comeback that overshadowed a late Notre Dame rally as the Cardinal advanced to the second round of the NCAA Championship with an 8-7 win over the Irish Friday night at Northwestern's Lakeside Field.

Having trouble on the offensive end all day, the Irish trailed 6-3 after a Julia Burns goal with 17:06 left in the second half gave the Cardinal a three goal lead.

However, Notre Dame didn't give up as it put together a remarkable comeback. Having scored only three goals in the game's first 49 minutes, the Irish offense came alive as they proceeded to score four goals in the next six minutes to take a 7-6 lead with 5:07 remaining in the game.

Junior Lindsay Powell got the comeback started with an eight-meter goal at 11:15. Senior Betsy Mastropieri came off the bench and scored the next two goals for Notre Dame, putting one in on her own accord, while receiving help from Powell on the other. Both goals came within 1:22. With the score tied at six, junior Kaitlyn Brosco gave Notre Dame its first lead since the game's opening minutes as she swiveled around and powered the ball past Stanford goalie Lyndsey Munoz.

The Cardinal didn't give up though as they took possession with under two minutes remaining and were rewarded as Lucy Dikeou scored her third goal of the game to knot the score at seven.

Stanford again regained possession with under a minute remaining and caught a break as shooting space was called on the Irish defense with seven seconds remaining in the game. That penalty gave Farr a free position attempt to win the game. She capitalized, finding the back of the net with just four seconds remaining in regulation.

"Obviously it's incredibly disappointing to have a first round NCAA Tournament exit," said head coach Christine Halfpenny. "After fighting incredibly hard all game, especially in the final 11 minutes, it's disappointing to have such an evenly contested game decided on an eight-meter goal with seven seconds left.

"The fight, heart and execution shown in the last 11 minutes of the game in the comeback attempt will certainly help build a foundation for the young players on this year's team for them to remember and build off of for next season."

#14 Notre Dame 18, High Point 4

May 9, 2014 • Notre Dame, Ind.

Cortney Fortunato (six points), Kaitlyn Brosco (five points) and Rachel Sexton (four goals) all scored at least a hat trick as the No. 8-seed Notre Dame women's lacrosse team cruised to an 18-4 win over High Point in the first round of the NCAA Women's Lacrosse Championship at Arlotta Stadium.

The Irish remain perfect all-time in postseason play on their home field at 5-0. The 18 goals are the second-most the team has ever scored in NCAA Tournament play, eclipsed only by a 19-13 win over Vanderbilt on May 10, 2009. It was by far the largest margin of NCAA Tournament victory ever for the Irish as the 14 goals easily surpassed the eight-goal margin in a 16-8 win over Cornell on May 14, 2006. Fortunato's six points tonight are the most in the NCAAs for a Notre Dame player since Jillian Byers had five goals and an assist in a 16-10 loss at North Carolina in the 2009 quarterfinals.

Against the Panthers (15-5), Notre Dame wasted little time taking control of the contest. The Irish scored each of the game's first seven goals, including tallies on each of the team's first three shots. Casey Pearsall grabbed the game's opening draw and it led to an unassisted goal by Brosco at 29:11. Just under a minute later, Sexton converted a Fortunato pass into a goal at 28:15. Brosco scored again, this time on a free position shot, at 26:51 and momentum was all on the Irish side. Kiera McMullan would score twice, Sexton would add her second and Fortunato her first of three goals on the night in the game-opening 7-0 run. High Point scored two of the next three goals, coming off of the sticks of Kendyl Gardner and Sara Kuhlman, to make the score 7-2 at 7:25.

Notre Dame scored four times in the first half's final 4:37 to take a 12-2 lead into the locker rooms at halftime. Two of goals were by Sexton, giving her a career-high-tying four in the game's opening 29:43 alone. The Irish also scored the first four goals of the second half to make it an 8-0 run in all and hold a 16-2 advantage. Fortunato scored twice in this string as a part of her three-goal, three-assist, six-point night. It was the freshman phenom's ninth hat trick of the year. The Irish are now 8-1 when Fortunato collects a hat trick.

The two teams scored twice each over the game's final 16:18 to account for the 18-4 final score. Stephanie Toy and Shauna Pugliese picked up the late goals for Notre Dame while Kuhlman got her second for the Panthers and Alec Perry scored as well.

Liz O'Sullivan got the win in net for Notre Dame, playing the first 51:51 and making four saves while allowing four goals. Allie Murray played the last 8:09 and made two saves without allowing a score. Julie Burns started in net for High Point and went 25:23 while Hayley Peets played the remaining 34:37. Both netminders allowed nine goals and made five saves.

Notre Dame enjoyed a 34-15 edge in shots on the night and a 25-18 ground ball advantage. High Point won the battles in the center circle, winning 15 draws to Notre Dame's nine. The Panthers were hindered by 26 turnovers, however while Notre Dame committed just 15.

2014 NCAA Tournament – Second Round

#9 Duke 10, #14 Notre Dame 8
May 11, 2014 • Notre Dame, Ind.

Rachel Sexton netted a hat trick for a No. 8-seed Notre Dame women's lacrosse team that was unrelenting in its attempt to even the score against Duke in an NCAA second round game at Arlotta Stadium, but the Irish couldn't quite get over the hump as the Blue Devils came away 10-8 victors. It was Notre Dame's first loss all-time in six NCAA Tournament home games as the Irish finish their season at 10-9.

Senior All-American candidate Margaret Smith made a defensive statement in her final collegiate appearance, causing five turnovers, gathering five ground balls and controlling four draws. Smith's final ground ball was her 64th of the season, breaking Holly Manthei's school record of 63 set back in 1998. During the game, she also broke the Notre Dame career record for caused turnovers, passing Jackie Doherty (2008-11) and ending her decorated career with 122 for the Irish.

Along with Sexton's hat trick, Brie Custis also had a three-point game with the sophomore scoring twice and adding an assist to accompany three draw controls, a caused turnover and one ground ball. Senior Lindsay Powell scored a pair of goals for Notre Dame as well. Sexton scored a total of seven goals in the team's two NCAA Tournament games after netting four in Friday night's win over High Point.

Duke posted some big offensive individual numbers as Maddy Morrissey scored four goals and assisted on two more while Kerrin Maurer had three goals and an assist. Kelsey Duryea made 11 saves in the Blue Devil net, several of them in crucial situations late in the game to maintain Duke's lead.

Notre Dame wasted no time in opening the scoring. Casey Pearsall controlled the opening draw and just 23 seconds into play, Sexton scored on a free position. Duke equalized just 23 seconds later though when Morrissey scored at 29:14. The first half of the opening stanza would be a low scoring one as over the next 16 minutes of play the only goal would come from Custis whose unassisted strike gave Notre Dame a 2-1 lead at 21:19. Once Brigid Smith scored from Maurer at 13:10, however, it triggered a five-goal Duke run that gave the Blue Devils a 4-2 lead at intermission and a 6-2 advantage by the 25:35 mark of the second half when Maurer completed her hat trick.

The teams traded each of the next four goals, eventually making the score 8-4 for Duke with 17:07 left to play. Caitlin Gargan broke that run when she scored her 30th goal of the year, off of a Lauren Sullivan feed, at 21:44. Morrissey got that back on a free position shot at 19:04. Notre Dame responded with a Custis goal, set up by Stephanie Toy, at 17:49 but 42 seconds later Taylor Trimble scored for the Blue Devils.

Notre Dame mounted its signature late-game rally at that point, scoring each of the next three goals to make the score 8-7. Powell scored on a free position at 13:34, followed by an unassisted Sexton goal at 11:53 and a second Powell strike, this one with a helper from Custis, at 8:29. Morrissey gave Duke some breathing room with a goal at 4:50 and, following a lengthy stall, the Blue Devils got an insurance goal from Smith with 27 seconds to play. Unfazed, as usual, Custis controlled the ensuing draw and Sexton tallied on a free position with 15 seconds to play, making it a 10-8 game, but Duke would get the final draw and hang on for the win.

Reflecting the tight nature of the game, shots were 21-20 for Notre Dame, ground balls went 22-18 for Duke, draw controls were 12-8 for Notre Dame and the Blue Devils committed more turnovers, 18-16. Liz O'Sullivan made five saves in the Notre Dame net, four of them in the second half.

The Irish should return strong in 2015. Of the team's 12 most frequent starters in 2014, 11 of them are set to return. Players who accounted for 295 of the team's 334 points scored (88-percent) will be wearing the Irish uniform in 2015 as well.

2015 NCAA First Round

#12 Notre Dame 13, #14 Ohio State 11

May 8, 2015 - Evanston, Ill.

Ohio State's women's lacrosse team raced out to a 7-4 lead late in the first half but a resilient Notre Dame squad scored seven straight goals to seize control of their NCAA tournament first round matchup late Friday night and roll to a 13-11 victory at Northwestern's Lakeside Field.

Scoring the first six goals of the second half against the Buckeyes (13-8), the Irish (11-8) earned themselves a matchup with the homestanding Wildcats at 1 p.m. CDT on Sunday in the tournament's second round and a matchup of the top two teams in the Midwest.

Cortney Fortunato compiled a robust stat line for the Irish, scoring twice, adding two assists, controlling four draws, scooping up three ground balls and causing a turnover. The four draw controls matched her career high.

Along with Fortunato, Anaheim also had a four-point night on two goals and two assists. Stephanie Toy netted a hat trick while freshman Molly Cobb chipped in three assists. Cobb entered tonight with just two assists spread over 15 games played. A team which relies heavily on its starters, the Irish got five points off of its bench tonight with Cobb's three assists and Kiera McMullan's two goals. Sexton had a goal and an assist. This year, Notre Dame is 10-2 when Sexton picks up at least two points and just 1-6 when she is held to one or zero points.

Tonight marked Notre Dame's first win this year when trailing at the half and could not have come at a better time than in the NCAA tournament.

The two teams had met on March 21 at Notre Dame's Arlotta Stadium with a similar result - a close first half and then an Irish runaway in the second half. Notre Dame won that first meeting 13-5 after leading 3-2 at intermission. Tonight the Buckeye led 7-5 at halftime but eight second-half goals pushed the Irish over the top.

One category which made a significant difference in the game on Friday night was Notre Dame's draw controls, leading the Buckeyes 18-8, going 9-4 in both half. Barbara Sullivan led the way with eight draw controls, one shy of her own school single-game record sum of nine.

Liz O'Sullivan made seven saves in the Irish net while Tori DeScenza made 10 stops for the Buckeyes. Stephanie Peragallo caused a pair of turnovers playing in front of O'Sullivan.

The Buckeyes drew first blood on a Molly Wood free position goal but Notre Dame scored each of the next three goals over a 1:15 burst to take a 3-1 advantage. After the initial Buckeye goal, Brie Custis controlled the ensuing draw for the Irish. At the offensive end, Sexton found Fortunato for the goal, knotting the score at 1-1. Just nine seconds later, the Irish were on the board again. Anaheim controlled the draw and rushed up field, feeding McMullan for a goal. The Irish made it a 3-1 game when Toy rolled off of a defender and scored unassisted.

Ohio State scored six of the next seven goals, sandwiched around a Anaheim goal from Fortunato, to take a 7-4 edge by the time 8:11 left in the first half. Notre Dame got one of the goals back before intermission when McMullan scored on a free position with 7:56 to go, making it a 7-5 score at halftime.

The six-goal run to open the second half began when Custis set up Toy 1:05 into the half. Notre Dame forced the fourth and final tie of the game at 7-7 just 48 seconds later. Fortunato controlled the draw and dished to Katherine Eilers, a native of neighboring Winnetka, Illinois, who found the back of the net against the Buckeyes. The Irish took the lead for good three minutes later on Fortunato's 56th goal of the year. Sexton, Anaheim and Caitlin Gargan would also add goals for Notre Dame in this run that topped the Irish lead to 11-7.

Ohio State snapped the seven-goal Irish run on a Mary Kate Faccina free position goal at 17:42 of the second half, the first Buckeye goal in 21:29 of game action. It remained an 11-8 Irish lead until a crazy final 3:05 in which the Irish scored a pair of empty net goals but the Buckeyes continued to fight on the offensive end. Five goals were scored in those final 3:05, three of them by Ohio State, accounting for the 13-11 final.

Katie Chase, Cian Dabrowski and Wood each scored a pair of goals for Ohio State.

2015 NCAA Tournament - Second Round

#8 Northwestern 16, #12 Notre Dame 11
May 10, 2015 - Evanston, Ill.

A nine-goal second half offensive burst tore open a game that had been tied at halftime and pushed No. 8 seed Northwestern (14-6) past Notre Dame (11-9), 16-11, in an NCAA Tournament second round game on Sunday at the Wildcats' Lakeside Field.

Heidi Anaheim and Rachel Sexton each had a hat trick and an assist to pace Notre Dame on offense. Irish goalkeeper Liz O'Sullivan made 10 saves and senior Caitlin Gargan scored twice and added an assist for a three-point game.

Gargan crossed the 20-point plateau on the season during the game, giving the Irish a school-record nine players this spring with at least 20 points. Eight of those nine (all but Gargan) will return to the Irish in 2016 led by Courtney Fortunato who scored 56 goals and added 20 assists for 76 points in a 2015 season that will likely net her All-America accolades. Overall, players who accounted for 312 of Notre Dame's 336 points this year (93 percent) are expected back in 2016.

Tewaaraton Award finalist Barbara Sullivan controlled four draws in the game today with a pair of caused turnovers and a ground ball. She finishes the season with a school-record 85 draw controls while her 36 caused turnovers will likely continue to top the Atlantic Coast Conference.

The Wildcats scored five of the second half's first six goals to take command of the contest and ultimately earn a quarterfinal matchup next weekend at top-seeded Maryland. Kaleigh Craig and Selena Lasota both scored five goals for Northwestern while Sheila Nesselbush added four more tallies.

The Irish got on the scoreboard first when Sexton set up Gargan for a goal just 1:01 into the game. After Northwestern tied the score, Notre Dame scored twice in a row to take a 3-1 lead. Annaheim struck first, picking the top corner on a free position shot. Gargan then sent a great pass from behind the net to Molly Cobb for the freshman's first career goal. Cobb had a goal and three assists in the team's two NCAA tournament games after compiling just two assists over her 15 regular season games played.

Northwestern tied the score at 3-3, but a three-goal run by the Irish gave Notre Dame a 6-3 cushion when 5:50 remained in the first half. Sexton and Brie Custis scored on free position shots to make it 5-3. Notre Dame's final goal in the stretch was one of its prettiest of the season. After Stephanie Toy gathered a lengthy rebound of a shot off of the crossbar, Toy initiated a tic-tac-toe passing play by dishing off to Kiera McMullan by the near post who connected with Sexton at the far post for the goal.

After the Wildcats tied the score at 6-6 with 57 seconds left in the half, Notre Dame responded just 14 seconds later to go back on top, 7-6. Fortunato controlled the draw and fed Annaheim for the second of her three goals in the game. Craig scored five seconds before halftime though, sending the teams to the break deadlocked at 7-7.

Northwestern scored five of the second half's first six goals to turn the game around and take a 12-8 lead. The lone goal for the Irish came when Annaheim scored on a feed from Casey Pearsall who played sparingly in the second half. It was Pearsall's first appearance since suffering an ankle injury on April 16 and her physical two-way presence had been sorely missed in the interim.

A free position goal by Sexton and a tally from Alex Dalton, set up by Annaheim, got the Irish to within three goals at 13-10 with 11:09 to play, but Northwestern did not allow the Irish to draw closer. Gargan scored, unassisted, with 3:18 to play but it was sandwiched between four Wildcat goals to account for the 16-11 final score. Senior All-American candidate Margaret Smith made a defensive statement in her final collegiate appearance, causing five turnovers, gathering five ground balls and controlling four draws. Smith's final ground ball was her 64th of the season, breaking Holly Mantheis' school record of 63 set back in 1998. During the game, she also broke the Notre Dame career record for caused turnovers, passing Jackie Doherty (2008-11) and ending her decorated career with 122 for the Irish.

2016 NCAA Tournament – Second Round

#6 Notre Dame 15, #10 Northwestern 3
May 15, 2016 - Notre Dame, Ind.

Sunday morning, thousands of Notre Dame students became Notre Dame alumni as they received their degrees. Hours later, 11 senior student-athletes and one graduate student on Notre Dame's women's lacrosse team ensured that their time at Notre Dame will continue as the Irish matriculated onto the NCAA quarterfinals for the first time since 2009.

The sixth-seeded Irish (14-6) outshot Northwestern 21-5 in the first half and outscored the Wildcats 8-0 in the second half en route to a 15-3 demolition of one of the sport's standard-bearers in an NCAA second round matchup at Arlotta Stadium.

Courtney Fortunato and Grace Muller both scored four goals to pace the Irish offense while the Notre Dame defense caused 16 turnovers (led by three apiece from Barbara Sullivan and Brie Custis) and held the Wildcats to a season-low 16 shots.

By scoring on just three goals it is the best scoring defensive performance against Northwestern since May 3, 2003, when Syracuse downed the Wildcats, 14-3, prior to the purple-clad northsiders claiming their seven national titles in eight years. The 12-goal defeat matches the worst in Northwestern's lengthy NCAA Championship history. The scope of the victory is only enhanced by the foe it came against as the Irish improved to 6-1 all-time in home NCAA play.

Notre Dame controlled the game on Sunday from start to finish, opening the game on a 4-0 run and closing it on a 9-0 run which was punctuated by seven second half saves from goalkeeper Samantha Giacalone.

Sullivan, now a Tewaaraton Award finalist for the second consecutive year, controlled five draws and collected three ground balls to accompany her three turnovers. She also stood front and center in an Irish defense that held an opponent to less than five goals for the school-record eighth time this year.

2016 NCAA Tournament – Quarterfinals

#3 North Carolina 10, #6 Notre Dame 6
May 21, 2016 - Chapel Hill, N.C.

Courtney Fortunato and Kiera McMullan each scored twice and Samantha Giacalone made six saves, but it was not enough as Notre Dame saw its 2016 season come to a close with a hard-fought 10-6 loss in the NCAA Quarterfinals at ACC rival and third-ranked North Carolina on Saturday afternoon at Fetzer Field.

The Fighting Irish knotted the game at 3-3 on Alex Dalton's lone goal of the game with 10:36 remaining in the first half. However, UNC responded by netting three of the final four goals in the opening stanza to take a 6-4 lead into the dressing room. The Tar Heels then scored the first two goals of the second half before Notre Dame pulled within 8-5 on Fortunato's second tally of the day with 19:03 to play, but UNC's Molly Hendrick answered with a goal 52 seconds later and the Fighting Irish could not get closer than three scores the rest of the afternoon.

Notre Dame finished with a slim 21-19 edge in total shots, although North Carolina held a 16-14 advantage in shots on goal. Each team scored 15 ground balls, while the Fighting Irish forced 13 UNC turnovers, committing 12 on their own.

Molly Cobb added the other goal for Notre Dame, while Marie McCool scored three goals and Hendrick added a pair of scores to lead North Carolina. UNC goalkeeper Megan Ward made eight saves between the pipes for the Tar Heels.

"The first thing you have to look at is (UNC goalkeeper) Megan Ward was outstanding today," Notre Dame head coach Christine Halfpenny said. "She was all over us. She turned away multiple point-blank opportunities and I think when your goalie is hot like that ... that's something that we struggled with today, adjusting our shooting and going 6-for-21, that's just a tough day out for us. We got our looks and just didn't finish them out today."

2017 NCAA Tournament – First Round

#12 Cornell 12, #15 Notre Dame 7 May 12, 2017 • Princeton, N.J.

Cortney Fortunato had two goals and 10 shots as the Irish fell to Cornell by a final score of 12-7 during the first round of the NCAA tournament.

Notre Dame led for much of the first half, going up 2-0 just over six minutes into the game. Shortly after the Big Red tied it at two a piece, Notre Dame took the lead for nearly the remainder of the half. Cornell tied it up again at five with just 1:39 remaining in the half. It was the last time the Irish would see the lead.

The second half was all Cornell, scoring three goals in less than six minutes to start the half, two of which came just 12 seconds apart. The Irish would try to rally, scoring two more goals to cut Cornell's lead to two (9-7) but again, the Big Red were just too much for the Irish and did not allow another goal against in the final 10 minutes of play.

In total, Notre Dame goalkeeper Samantha Giacalone saved nine shots, while Cornell's Renee Poullott saved 10.

The Irish were out shot 32-25 but held the advantage in caused turnovers with a narrow 8-7 margin. Draw control was all Cornell as they doubled that of the Irish, 14-7.

"We had a great, collective fight out there but couldn't gain enough draws in the second half to put ourselves in position to win," Notre Dame head coach Christine Halfpenny said.

Notre Dame is 7-5 all-time against Cornell and 7-12 in the NCAA tournament.

2019 NCAA Tournament – First Round

#7 Notre Dame 15, Stanford 9 May 10, 2019 • Evanston, Ill.

Maddie Howe paced the Irish with six goals and seven points as Notre Dame defeated Stanford, 15-9, in the first round of the NCAA Tournament at Martin Stadium.

Andie Aldave also notched five points (2G, 3A) to go with nine draw controls as the Irish improved to 14-4 in the 2019 campaign. The 14 victories tied the 2016 Irish squad for the third-most wins in a single season in program history.

Hannah Dorney also notched a hat trick for Irish, while Samantha Lynch added her 49th and 50th goals of the season in the win.

Savannah Buchanan earned five draw controls in addition to Aldave's nine as the Irish racked up an 18-7 advantage over Stanford in the circle.

Howe, Dorney and junior Kathleen Roe each caused a pair of Cardinal turnovers.

Samantha Giacalone stopped 13 shots, one shy of her season-high, to pick up her 14th victory of the season in goal for Notre Dame.

2019 NCAA Tournament – Second Round

#4 Northwestern 13, #7 Notre Dame 10 May 12, 2019 • Evanston, Ill.

Maddie Howe and Samantha Lynch each netted hat tricks and Bridget Deehan made a career-high 11 saves but the Irish fell to Northwestern, 13-10, in the second round of the NCAA Tournament at Martin Stadium.

Andie Aldave, Savannah Buchanan, Madison Mote and Nikki Ortega also scored for the Irish.

Aldave recorded eight draw controls, bringing her season total to a program-record 152.

Samantha Giacalone also made four stops in goal for the Irish, bringing her career total to a program-best 605.

After Northwestern took a 9-2 lead, the resilient Irish rattled off four straight goals to get within three with 22 minutes remaining. The four markers came from four different players, including Howe, Lynch, Ortega and Aldave. Deehan, who made eight saves in the second half, allowed the Irish to get within striking distance with several point-blank stops.

The Wildcats extended the lead back to four before Lynch's third goal made it a 13-10 score with 2:20 left, but the Irish were unable to inch closer as Northwestern held on for the win.

2021 NCAA Tournament – First Round

#5 Notre Dame 16, Robert Morris 0 May 14, 2021 • Notre Dame, Ind.

Nine different players found the back of the net and the Irish defense was stout for a full 60 minutes as #5 Notre Dame earned a 16-0 victory over Robert Morris in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament.

"I was really proud of our effort today," said Irish head coach Christine Halfpenny. "We've talked about playing together, playing in twos, and to get a shutout in the NCAA Tournament is a testament to the great effort and energy we played with today. I think a difference-maker in the NCAA Tournament is great depth, and it's something we showcased today."

The shutout was the first-ever in the NCAA Division I Women's Lacrosse Tournament and third overall in program history (4/9/10 – 16-0 vs. Villanova & 2/24/19 – 27-0 vs. Kent State). Bridget Deehan stopped all six shots she faced before Lilly Callahan made a save in relief to keep Robert Morris off the board. The Irish also forced 10 Colonial turnovers, including two by Hannah Dorney.

Kasey Choma (3G, A) and Savannah Buchanan (4A) led the Irish with four points each while Madison Mote earned a hat trick and Madison Ahern, Maddie Howe and Andie Aldave each netted a pair of goals.

Alison Harbaugh netted the first goal of her Irish career in the closing moments and Jackie Wolak, Katie Enrietto and Keelin Schlageter rounded out the scoring for Notre Dame.

As a team, the Irish earned a 12-5 advantage in draw controls with Aldave leading the way with five and Buchanan collecting four.

2021 NCAA Tournament – Second Round

#5 Notre Dame 13, #11 Virginia 8 May 16, 2021 • Notre Dame, Ind.

Jackie Wolak collected a career-high six points (4G, 2A) and Bridget Deehan made 10 saves as #5 Notre Dame earned a 13-8 victory over Virginia in the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

With the victory, Notre Dame (11-6) has earned its fifth trip to the NCAA Quarterfinals (2002, 2006, 2009, 2016, 2021) and will meet #4 Boston College. The Irish will be aiming to reach the National Semifinals for just the second time in program history (2006).

"Today was another total-team effort that was led by our graduates and seniors and their unwavering belief in where this program is going," said Irish head coach Christine Halfpenny. "I think the performance today and the outcome we earned came off of an incredible week of preparation. I'm really proud of this group, who has now played every ACC program except for Virginia Tech twice this season. That in and of itself has given us incredible experience as we moved into tournament play. To get back to the quarterfinals was a goal for this team, and to do it on our home field this weekend was special."

Maddie Howe followed Wolak with four points on three goals and an assist while Madison Ahern also notched a hat trick. Kasey Choma, Andie Aldave and Samantha Lynch rounded out the scoring for the Irish.

Diana Kelly led the Irish with three caused turnovers to go with a pair of ground balls. Wolak and Howe each caused a pair of Virginia turnovers to aid the Irish defensive effort. Aldave also led the Irish with five draw controls.

2022 NCAA Tournament – First Round

Notre Dame 11, Michigan 17 May 13, 2022 • Evanston, Ill.

The Notre Dame women's lacrosse team held the Michigan Wolverines in a close NCAA Tournament first round game. The Irish ultimately fell 17-11 to the Wolverines ending their NCAA Tournament run.

Kelly Denes had a standout night on the draw circle when she tallied seven draw controls getting her to 100 draw controls in a single season.

Maddie Howe led the Irish with three goals on the evening. Kasey Choma was right behind with two goals of her own.

Michigan got on the board first with a 3-0 run. It was when Madison Mote fired on a free position attempt to give the Irish their first goal and go on a run themselves. Notre Dame then saw goals from Jackie Wolak on a free position attempt followed by a goal from Keelin Schlageter to tie things at three.

The Irish stopped the Wolverines when Kelly Denes took it herself and gave the Irish a goal to bring the score to 6-4. Maddie Howe slid in another Irish goal when she faked her way to a Wolverine defender to go low and take it one on one with the Michigan goalie. The Irish and Wolverines would trade points the rest of the quarter with Notre Dame tallying one more goal from Madison Ahern going into halftime at 9-6.

The fourth quarter would see three late Irish goals but wouldn't be enough to bring the Irish back in front, eventually falling 17-11.

May 12, 2023 • Gainesville, Fla.

The Notre Dame women's lacrosse team recorded their most goals in program history in the NCAA Tournament as the Irish opened with a 21-6 victory over the Mercer Bears in the first round. Kasey Choma had a standout performance, recording the team's first double-digit point total this season scoring six goals and registering four assists. The senior midfielder had seven points in the first quarter as the Irish jumped out to a 8-0 score. Seven Irish women scored in the contest, including Choma and Wolak with six goals each to advance the team to the second round as they faced host Florida. Lilly Callahan made six saves in the crease while Mary Kelly Doherty recorded a career-best seven points and five assists. Kelly Denes' eight draw controls and two goals helped the Irish claim victory in her return to her home state. The 15-goal margin was second-best for the Irish in the postseason.
